Innovate - Create - Rejuvenate

REPREVE

Repreve® fibers are made of recycled materials including plastic bottles.

RECYCLED BOTTLES
are collected, washed and chopped into bottle flake

REPREVE® CHIP
Bottle flake is melted and formed into chip

CiCLO®
Fibers are treated to reduce plastic pollution

REPREVE® RECYCLED FIBER
Chip is melted and extruded into recycled fiber

WIGWAM
SOCKS
Fiber is made into Wigwam products for you
See Pages 12, 13, 39 and 40 for our CiCLO® socks.

CiCLO®-treated fibers are unlike all others made from recycled materials:

- break down in landfill conditions
- don't shed microplastics
- reduce plastic pollution
- are safe, comfortable and durable

A woman with long hair, wearing a red beanie, a brown hoodie, and grey leggings, stands on a rocky outcrop. She is looking down and to the right, overlooking a vast, calm lake. The sun is low on the horizon, creating a soft, golden glow over the water and the surrounding forested hills. The sky is a mix of light blue and orange. The overall mood is peaceful and adventurous.

SOCK LENGTHS EXPLAINED

NO SHOW:

A shorter length sock that falls below the shoe line. Usually 3 in. or less in length

LOW-CUT:

A short length sock that falls below the ankle bone. Usually 3 in. to 4 in. in length

QUARTER LENGTH:

A sock that rests above the ankle bone and is seen outside of shoes. Typically 4 in. to 5 in. in length.

MID-CREW LENGTH:

A sock that extends to just below mid calf. Typically 8 in. in length.

CREW LENGTH:

A sock that extends beyond ankle length, but not beyond the largest part of the calf. Typically 9 in. to 12 in. in length.

BOOT LENGTH:

A typical length of a sock that falls higher than the tops of taller outdoor and hiking boots, typically 12 in. to 13 in. in height, although they can be as long as 14 in. to 15 in. (Tall Boot Length) or as short as 11 in. (Shorter Boot-Top Length).

OVER-THE-CALF LENGTH:

A sock that extends above the largest part of the calf. Typically 15 in. or longer.

SOCK WEIGHTS EXPLAINED

ULTRA-LIGHTWEIGHT:

These socks are void of cushioning in any capacity and are designed for a feather-lite feel and fit.

LIGHTWEIGHT:

Lightweight construction utilizes a dense but thin cushion in a zoned area such as the heel, sole or ball of the foot.

MIDWEIGHT:

Midweight designs are constructed with dense cushioning in multiple areas of the sock like shins and soles or the entire foot of the sock.

HEAVYWEIGHT:

Heavy cushioning throughout is the trademark of this weight. Typically cushioned not only for comfort but for warmth as well.

TOE SEAM CLOSURES

CONVENTIONAL TOE SEAM:

Conventional toe seaming is the traditional way that toe pockets have been closed for many years. In this method the sock is turned inside out and the toe pocket is sewn closed, then returned to its proper form. This type of toe closure leaves a smooth, "finished" appearance on the exterior of the sock, but also leaves a slight ridge on the interior of the sock.

LOW PROFILE TOE CLOSURE:

This type of toe closure is also known as a machine looped toe seam performed on a Complett machine. In this method of toe closing, the end of the knit fabric is run slightly thinner, then this light "run off" is then loop stitched closed. This method allows for less material bulk to be caught within the seam for a straighter seam and the seam to lie much flatter inside of the sock.

EXTRA-SMOOTH REVERSO TOE CLOSURE:

The Reverso toe closure is done the same way as a low profile toe seam, except that the sock is not turned inside out before closing the toe. Although this method leaves a slightly raised seam on the outside of the sock, it provides an extra-smooth surface on the inside where it contacts the foot.

SEAMLESS CLASSIC LINKING TOE CLOSURE:

This type of closure is stitched loop-for-loop on the knitting machine that produces a seamless closure on the inside and outside of the sock fabric.

SEAMLESS LIN-TOE CLOSURE:

The Lin-Toe closure method aligns the knit loops on the opposing edges of circular knit fabric. Then a single thread issued joins the fabric edges loop-for-loop to create a single piece of knit fabric. Classic linking and Lin-Toe closures are nearly identical in appearance but equally effective in providing comfort. (see illustration on right)
